Customized design to meet personalized needs

Flexible size: Single, double or multi-panel linkage designs can be customized according to the opening size to adapt to different space layouts.

Color and surface treatment: A variety of colors (such as matte black, champagne gold, wood grain transfer) and surface processes (such as anodizing, fluorocarbon spraying) are provided to match the architectural appearance.

Function expansion: It can be integrated with an electric intelligent system (such as remote control, voice control), built-in blinds or screens, enhancing the convenience of use.

Low maintenance and long service life

Corrosion-resistant material: The aluminum alloy frame has undergone oxidation treatment to prevent rust and moisture, making it suitable for humid environments (such as coastal areas).

Easy-to-clean glass: Tempered glass has a smooth surface and is not prone to staining. Daily wiping can keep it bright.

Long-life components: High-quality pulleys and locks are durable, reducing the frequency of replacement and lowering long-term usage costs.

Application scenario recommendation

Modern residences: As a partition between the living room and the balcony, it creates an unbounded indoor and outdoor space.

Commercial premises: Terrace doors used in restaurants and cafes to attract customers' attention and enhance the sense of openness.

High-end villas: Equipped with large floor-to-ceiling Windows, highlighting the design concept of the integration of luxury and nature.

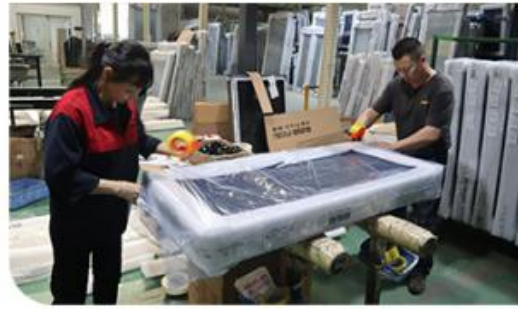

Renovation project: Replace traditional swing doors to save space and enhance lighting effects.
